Join LAA & City Market artist Betsy Slocum on an informative walking tour of a few of City Market's art spots and peek into the creative world of an award-winning sculptor, a Gullah basket weaver, an etcher, an enamellist, and a potter. Hear and see how each possesses a vision brought to life through instructional content and demonstration. You'll also learn a bit about the downtown of years past through the eyes of a life-long, well-known local Savannah scene and architectural artist. We'll break for lunch (at your own expense) at the recently renovated Belford's Restaurant, located in a building designed in 1902 by the architect of Savannah's gold-domed City Hall.
