Workshop Description:

In this workshop I will present to the students information about materials, technique and ideas about painting with acrylic paints. The class will consist of demonstration, lecture, and practice. Based on the make-up of the students in the class, I will stay flexible with my plan for instruction and critique. Anything that I ask the students to do will first be demonstrated and discussed. A full supply list is being provided so it's important for the students to try to bring those items to fully participate in the workshop projects.

Marc R. Hanson Biography:

Having grown up in a military family, Marc's youth was spent on the move, from California to many states and abroad and eventually back to California.

Marc began college as a biology major, but soon was accepted into Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, majoring in illustration. After Art Center and a brief stint as a staff illustrator in Sacramento, California, Marc moved to Minnesota where he lived for 33 years while raising a family and pursuing his art. He currently lives near Savannah, GA on Tybee Island with his partner, and artist, Dottie T. Leatherwood.

"I have pursued a career as a painter for many years now. Along the way my methods, materials and focus have evolved. A naturalist at heart, the landscape is the perfect vehicle for expressing the joy I have for the world that surrounds me. My real interest and challenge as a painter is how to best manipulate the core principles of painting into effective visual statements. I'm most successful when I'm able to communicate that joy to the viewers of my paintings."

Marc teaches landscape painting workshops locally and nationally. "I love working with other painters in their pursuit to better their craft. My goal is not to have them assimilate my style and technique, but to teach them how to more closely examine the subject and apply the principles that representational painters must follow to become effective visual communicators." Marc has shown his work in galleries and museums nationally and internationally since the early 1980's. He is a Master Signature Member of The Oil Painters of America (O.P.A.M.)

The list of Marc's gallery representation is found on his website; www.marchansonart.com.
